BUILDERS' BUREAU VICE PRESIDENT SPEAKS HERE

About Two Score Dealers and Contractors Hear Frank H. Beckmann

"There is something vitally wrong with the building business."

Frank H. Beckmann of Spokane, vice president and general manager of the National Builders' Bureau, made this assertion last night in the banquet room of the Glen Inn to about forty local contractors and dealers who were guests of the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company.

"Do you know that the contracting business is the only large business in the world today that is being handled on a competitive basis?" he inquired. "Just suppose that automobiles were handled on the same basis! Just see how absurd it would be. Contractors in many localities are doing business just as their grandfathers did years ago."

The Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company of 460 West Los Feliz Road is one of the liveliest lumber companies in the United States, according to Mr. Beckmann, who affirmed that he had no personal interest in this concern, but that this statement was borne out by the publication of the National Lumber Dealers' association.

Not Always Cheapest

The speaker called attention to the fact that the lowest bid was not always the cheapest in the long run and that often essentials were eliminated in the estimate of the low bidder and that these were added as "extras." He said that he did not know whether or not such conditions exist in Glendale.

Mr. Beckmann commented upon the wasted time and efforts spent by contractors in preparing rejected plans and sketches and urged the general use of a plan service such as maintained by the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company.

"You are in the most wonderful business in America—the building of homes for the American people," said Mr. Beckmann. "It is the innate desire of every individual to own a home some time unless he is a Bolshevist and I think even they can be trained. I have faith in the contracting business; I believe that we are going to change our methods and meet conditions that exist today."

Propose Association

The organization of a contractors' association in Glendale was suggested by Mr. Beckmann. A motion to this effect was made by John T. Bibb of 433 North Louise street and seconded by Peter L. Ferry of 614 East Acacia street. Mr. Ferry was instructed to appoint a committee to work out preliminary plans and report later.

E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, addressed the meeting calling attention to the importance of the place of contractors in the commercial world and their value in the upbuilding of the community.

W. P. Potter, credit manager of the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, acted as toastmaster.

AUXILIARY YEAR PLANS OUTLINED

Women of Legion to Work for Bonus In Behalf of Former Service Men

A meeting of the Legion Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Chalmer Day is president, was held last night in American Legion hall, at which plans for the coming year were discussed.

It was decided that one of the principal features of the year's work would be along the lines of the proposed bond issue to secure the bonus for the ex-service men.

At last night's meeting particular attention was given to the appointment of a committee, of which Mrs. J. F. McBryde is chairman, to meet tonight with the committee from the American Legion at the office of Mr. McBryde, 111 East Broadway, to formulate plans for carrying out a membership drive for both the Legion and Auxiliary and also for united work for putting through the purchase of the Sanitarium property which the Legion is contemplating taking over.

All Local Rotarians Present at Convention

Prologue Shows Origin and Great Growth

Carnival Is Big Feature Event for Tonight

"Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" was the title of a prologue presented this morning at the international Rotary convention in Los Angeles which was attended by the Glendale club en masse. It showed the origin and growth of the organization and closed with the beautiful scenic effect of a girl typifying the spirit of Rotary.

The Glendale delegation, attired in Rotary colors and carrying decorated canes, paraded Broadway and invaded several hotels this morning, led by the '49ers from Sacramento. The Glendale Rotarians were in fine voice and sang the praises of their home town. They were a noisy bunch, vocally and sartorically.

Rotarian J. A. Stevenson of the Santa Ana Presbyterian church pronounced the invocation; Bill Stevens, president of the Los Angeles club, gave the official address of welcome; William A. McConnell of Dublin, responded. Reports are being read this afternoon, there was a speech by President Crawford C. McCullough, and everything is passing serenely at the Philharmonic auditorium where the convention is being held.

Tonight a street carnival at Praeger park will attract the thousands of delegates.

POINTS OUT PATH OF GOOD WILL AND SERVICE

Rotarian President, In His Address, Urges Members to March to Goal

Sounding the necessity for new by-laws and constitution as the keynote of the International Rotary convention in Los Angeles, Crawford C. McCullough, a doctor of Fort William, Ontario, Canada, today deliyered his presidential address to the 2000 accredited delegates and numerous members who are in attendance, including nearly two score from Glendale.

Following are some pertinent paragraphs from the president's speech, which will long be remembered by those who were privileged to hear him:

"One year ago when in memorable convention at Edinburgh you honored me with the highest gift at your command, I spoke to you of my high position. I made but one promise. It was that I would give of my best.

"Today we again meet in convention and with my year of service now almost entirely behind me instead of before, I greet you with the confidence of one who has

THIS CITY GIVEN HIGHEST PRAISE BY VISITORS

Delegates Greatly Impressed With Glendale; Publicity Sure to Benefit

By GIL A. COWAN

Glendale made its mark in the minds of the many International Rotarians who were brought here on an automobile excursion yesterday.

Not only were they shown the fastest growing city in America and its environs, but they were given a glimpse of Pasadena and Hollywood.

They wanted to see Hollywood in particular, having heard so much about it—that wasn't true. And the Rotarians were the first to recognize the fact when they saw Holiywood as it actually is.

From Kenneth Heights they looked down over Glendale and agreed with the more than 100 motor car owners and drivers who so kindly donated the machines that Glendale wa san ideal spot in which to reside.

They long will speak of the sylvan beauty of Verdugo Woodlands, the Arroyo Seco, Orange

CENSORSHIP PLAN AT EAGLE ROCK IS DEFEATED

Two Factions In Meeting Present Arguments; Clean Pictures Promised

Eagle Rock's board of trustees decisively defeated the move for moving picture censorship which was brought to a head last night by the presentation of an ordinance. The city hall was packed with the pro and con elements of the community and Sherrill B. Osborne, president of the board, at different times had to invoke rebukes on the warring factions.

Dr. John C. Shedd and the Rev. W. A. Johnston spoke for the ordinance, the former taking exceptions to the remarks that it was "small town stuff," as J. B. Brown had quoted the opinion of one man in The Glendale Evening News. Mr. Brown, a prominent real estate dealer, spoke against the ordinance which was holding up construction on the Rommel theatre building.

Promise Clean Pictures

Rev. Isaacs, of the Congregational church, also spoke against the censorship proposed and so did J. Ferdon. By the close of the evening's entertainment, Dr. Shedd ventured the opinion that all that was desired is clean pictures. This already had been promised.

The use of the names of various organizations in the proposed ordinance was unauthorized, it was learned, and Mayor Osborne counseled the promoters of censorship against such tactics.

John Rommel and his son, Henry, of the Rommel Construction company, Glendale, were among those present and were glad to know that public sentiment in Eagle Rock favors the completion of their theatre building.

A new cafe was opened last Saturday at 210 South Central avenue by M. H. Ryan and G. Shankland, both of Eagle Rock. The cafe will be known as "The Sunayland" and is located in a new building with all new and most modern equipment. The cafe will be able to care for thirty-seven people at one time.

HUGE CUT IN RAILWAY WAGES ORDERED BY BOARD

CHICAGO, June 6.—The crisis of a railway strike was brought appreciably nearer, it was generally believed today by the announcement of the United States railroad labor board of a reduction estimated at more than $59,000,000 annually in the wages of federated shop craft unions. Strike votes on the part of the unions are certain to follow, unless railroad labor executes an "about face" and reverses its present announced attitude. Today's decision of the board orders wage cuts, effective July 1, ranging from nothing for supervisory employes to 9c an hour for freight car men. The two largest divisions of the shop crafts employes, the machinists, electricians, blacksmiths, boiler-makers, etc., and the helpers and apprentices are reduced 7c an hour. # The Short Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 6.—According to the belief of Billy Evans, an umpire's efficiency, aside from the mere matter of eyesight and judgment, may be reckoned by his ability to make himself as inconspicuous as Mrs. Astor's second footman.

No immoderate gestures for Billy, no vocal flourishes as he renders decisions, no frowning or posing, in fact, his idea is to make the fans forget he is on the ball field as much as is humanly possible. He nimbly makes his decision by a definite, decisive jerk of his thumb, or the leveling of his hands, palm downward, and proceeds to fade into a self-created background of low visibility.

"That is where a lot of umpires make a mistake," Billy told the writer. "They get the crowd looking at them too much and that is a very bad thing for an umpire, unless his decisions are infallible.

"I'll never forget the first game I worked in the American league. I was teamed with Tommy Connolly and thought I got away with the thing in great shape. Later, in the dressing room, I asked Tommy how I had done.

"'Very well, young fellow,' says he, 'but I want to ask you a question. Were you ever a railroad brakeman?'

"I was considerably mystified by the question until he informed me I had made more motions than a traffic cop.

"'Never do it,' was his parting injunction. And I never have since."

The writer happened to be a witness of the first encounter between both Shawkey and Umpire Hildebrand in Boston several years ago, when a serious looking situation became quite peaceful in less time than it takes to tell it.

Shawkey, in his great rage, had refused to leave the field and was making vain efforts to get at Hildebrand again when Evans was seen to approach the agitated player. He said something to Shawkey and the latter immediately walked off the field without further ado. It was amazing.

Evans' explanation was characteristic.

"I just asked Shawkey to leave the field, if only for my sake," was his explanation. And, of course, Shawkey did. He merely reacted to a kind word spoken among a flurry of fists.

Diplomacy. That is why Billy Evans is the greatest umpire in the game today.

There's a guy up in Portland named Brewster,
Who, for Kenworthy, was a great booster;
But the judge got suspicious,
Thought his actions were vicious,
And now he doesn't do as much ts he "useter."

We hear a lot about the plans of William H. Klepper, president, and James R. Brewster, vice president, of the Portland baseball club, to take their case to the courts in an effort to overcome the baseball commissioner's decision. Babe Ruth and Bobby Meusel intimated the same thing last fall, but we all know of the success that they enjoyed. It looks like a long and dreary series of winters ahead for the Beaver Town moguls.

Dictionary Dictum

B. Ruth: "When is an argument not an argument?"

B. Meusel: "I'll bite, when is it?"

The Babe: "When Judge Landis is in it."

We are wondering just how many of next October's world series players will be clamoring for berths on post-season barnstorming tours.

Ruth admitted that the reason he played in exhibition games following the Big Doin's was to "test out" the power of Judge Landis. Considerable test, we wot.

Upsetting The Dope

Some pitchers shudder and tremble,
Others just naturally flinch,
As the batting star walks up to the plate
In a most exciting pinch.

So, in despair, he lobs 'em over,
Expecting a home-run clout;
But, to his utter dismay and astonishment,
He sees the slugger strike out.

The next day he's acclaimed as a hero
For his wonderful nerve and pluck;
The critics call it a "master feat"
But he knew darned well it was luck.

The old law of averages, upon which the scientists claim every phase of nature is ruled, sure goes "blooey" when a rookie, with nothing on the ball but the cover, ups and strikes out the rivals' leading batter. If that is really a law, some of us poor unfortunate "chronics" had better see that it be more rigidly enforced.

Old Wilyum Wise, the colored "slicker," makes the following announcement for the benefit of the proponents of the aforementioned law of averages: "Ah'd shua like to take on some o' dem deah genalmen in a crap game when he's wrong."

PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The release of the Indian, Jim Thorpe, by the Portland club brings to a close the athletic career of a man who was unquestionably one of the finest all round athletes the world has ever known.

In the matter of track and field sports Thorpe was in a class by himself and in football he was one of the best. Basketball found him on a par with the stars of his days. He was a good baseball player, but not of the same standards as he achieved in other lines of sport. When he was declared a professional shortly after the 1912 Olympic games he was signed into the majors but for a couple of years practically did nothing more than sit on the bench. He was later turned into the minors and came to the Portland team this year from the Toledo club. In baseball he has now run his race and the famous Indian is through. The name of Thorpe will live for many generations in such sports as track and field and football, but he will never be heard of in the hall of fame of baseball like stars of other days such as "Pop" Anson, Bill Lange and a host of others. Goodbye, Jim. You have done your part and America is proud of you.

With fifteen to twenty thousand people going to Coronado Tent city to witness swimming races staged by high school boys, the wonder of it is that San Diego and Coronado have not yet produced swimming stars of the magnitude of the Kahanamoku's, the Ross's, the Langer's or the Weismuller's. The people of the vicinity of San Diego flock across the bay to Coronado whenever a swimming meet is advertised. They revel in the sport almost on a par with the fanaticism displayed in Honolulu. The climate is ideal for swimming, yet to date southern California has not produced a real star of aquatics. They have innumerable good swimmers but no real champions. San Diego Rowing club swimmers have at times won national swimming honors but the performances while good have not been on a par with the names of the above mentioned. Now that the schools have scheduled competition, strange to say for the first time, it is possible a future champion is in the making.

When the new Pacific coast collegiate conference was organized in 1919 it was decided to start all over anew and the matter of records dated from the first competitions after the 1919 organization. Of the fifteen events forming the program seven of today's conference records are better than the marks prior to 1919, while seven of the old conference still surpass the present day performances and one, the hundred is tied. Here are the past and present marks of those events in which the old timers excelled:

The WORLD OVER

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Every large city of the country has its park, but it is not every city with such parks wherein athletes of national and international reputation get their start in their respective sport. New York has its Central Park, Boston has its Common, Chicago has its great parks, San Francisco has its Golden Gate park, etc., and it is Golden Gate park which today has come into the limelight as the place wherein champions of international fame are produced.

The recent record-breaking sales of Jimmy O'Connell to New York and Willie Kamm to Chicago have brought out the fact that these boys started their baseball career in Golden Gate park, and at the same time the coincidental fact is brought out that it is this same park whose tennis courts gave to the world such internationally famous stars as Morry McLoughlin, Bill Johnston, Willis Davis and a host of others.

Were Kamm and O'Connell the only boys who started at Golden Gate, the significance would not be so great, but many of the leading stars of the major leagues today are products of this great park in the heart of San Francisco. In this park a certain section is set aside for baseball and about twenty diamonds are laid out and used daily and on Sundays are used from sunrise to sunset. For years past there have been sets of boys who played there and the names of their clubs have been carried down year in and year out. The most famous of these clubs is known by the unpretentious name of "The Park Bums."

To the "Park Bums" the major leagues can tilt their hats as the breeding place of many of the stars they are now seeing in action. Kamm and O'Connell are both products of this park. For years, as kids, they were members of "The Park Bums" and on the same team with them some years ago were Sammy Bohne, Jimmie Caveney and Babe Pinelli, now all with the Cincinnati club.

George Kelly, of the New York Giants, who last year made a name for himself as a home run hitter, first had his experience of team baseball with "The Park Bums" and Bill Cunningham now also with the Giants was a member of the same team as Kelly. Carl Hollings the Detroit pitcher, Bert Cole and Louis Fonseca are other major leaguers who owe their start in baseball to "The Park Bums."

These are just a few of the names of stars which come to mind now with the majors. There have been many others and some of the present Coast league players are in the bunch. Oscar Vitt, formerly with the majors and now with the Salt Lake team, Sands, Salt Lake, and Orr with Sacramento, are others who served their apprenticeship with "The Park Bums."

That so many stars were produced by such an insignificant team at Golden Gate park is singular, but it is all the more remarkable that not only world-famed baseball stars but world-famed tennis stars are also the product of the same park. The tennis courts and the baseball diamond are within a few hundred yards of each other.

Wallace Bates Loses to Jap Net Champ

TOKIO, June 6—Wallace Bates, star player of the University of California tennis team, now staging a Nippon invasion, lost his match to Kumagaeo, Japanese net champion. Kumagae won, 6-0; 6-2. Bates and Wilson defeated Kumagaeo and Nomura, ex-champion of Japan, in doubles, 6-6, 6-2 and 6-4. The Californians are winning all of their collegiate matches.

Dear Scouts 'n Everybody

There was a boy and his name was Bill. Who joined the Boy Scouts and started out in fine shape. Just like 2,000,000 other boys have done. He passed his Tenderfoot and Second Class tests. But somehow or other he didn't seem to get the "kick" out of Scouting he thought he would, until one day his friend Jack went down to "Webb's" and got an official uniform, and showed it to Bill and when Bill gave it the "once over," he said—That's just what's been the matter with me. So he borrowed $10 from "Dad" and bought a new uniform like Jack and now he takes great pride in himself and the troop and is glad he belongs to this great organization. But, best of all, he got a job after school and paid back every cent he had borrowed from "Dad" and in addition he saved enough money to go on the Boy Scout Summer Vacation Camp to Catalina. Now what do you think of that?

—JIM.

SIXTY MILLIONS CUT FROM WAGES

Pocketbooks of More Than 300,000 Men Are Hit by Labor Board

CHICAGO, June 6.—Here are the high spots in today's labor board decision:

Cuts approximately $60,000,000 annually from the wages of the Federated Shop Crafts of the railroads. Reductions range from nothing to nine cents an hour, depending upon classification.

Hits the pocketbooks of between 290,000 and 500,000 men. In February, 1922, the number of men in the shop crafts was 290,182. Under normal conditions this figure runs up to nearly half a million men.

Allots the maximum reduction of nine cents an hour to the freight car men; does not cut wages of supervisory employes at all.

Brings to a crisis the question of a railroad strike. Minority report declares that the decision is based on cold statistics and under the reduced scale the men will be paid "under the scale of a living wage."

Effective July 1, 1922.

Enigmatic Statement

CINCINNATI, June 6.—"Another such victory and I am done."

This was Samuel Gompers' enigmatic statement here today after he had read and considered thoroughly the decision handed down by the United States supreme court in the Coronado case. He did not explain his unusual statement, which was made after he had concluded a denunciation of Chief Justice William H. Taft and the decision.

PEOPLE PROTEST COUNCIL ACTION

Health Department Put at Former Tropico City Hall; Parents Objecting

Dissatisfaction over the new location of the health department in the former Tropico city hall at Brand boulevard and Los Feliz road on the part of many citizens is reported by Miss Bessie M. Barlow, public health nurse.

She stated that several parents had been quite indignant at the necessity of bringing their children down there and that one mother had stated postively that she would not think of allowing her child to go there alone.

Miss Barlow is informing protestants that the move was made at the direction of the city council.

For the convenience of school children and their parents arrangements have been made for the issuance of school permits in Dr. J. E. Eckles' office at 125½ North Brand boulevard between the hours of 8 and 9 in the morning. Miss Barlow stated, however, that these hours must be respected.

Meanwhile, a "field day" has been held in the new quarters of the health department and, according to Dr. Eckles, "the windows are almost clean enough to see through."

NEW LABORATORY WILL OPEN HERE

M'Gillis and Leap Will Be In Charge of Plant in Rudy Building

Announcement of the opening on next Monday, June 12, of the McGillis & Leap X-ray and Diagnostic laboratory in this city was made yesterday by Clive S. Leap, member of the firm and well known Southern California roentnologist. The location of the laboratory, which will be the first of its kind to be established in Glendale, will be in suite ten of the Rudy building, 101A North Brand boulevard.

The laboratory will be equipped to do practically all kinds of X-ray work, in addition to analysis, blood chemistry and various other examinations used in diagnostic proceedings. Both private and professional patronage will be solicited by the laboratorians.

Both McGillis and Leap are known to a large number of Glendalians, the former having been a resident of this city for the past fifteen years and the latter having become known here during the past year, during which time he has been in Los Angeles. Mr. Leap, who formerly resided in Fresno, is now staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis of 1003 East Lomita avenue.

Flying Licenses Are Necessary In Kansas

TOPEKA, Kan. — Aviators should remember that when flying in Kansas they must have a license.

This was the ultimatum delivered by Adjutant General C. I. Martin, chairman of the new state aircraft board. General Martin also states that all aircraft manufacturers and dealers throughout the state must be licensed.

All aviators are required to take an examination before they receive a license.

LEE THOMAS IS BACK FROM TRIP

Tells About Conditions In Mexico; Luscious Fruits, Melons on Trees

Lee Thomas of 314 South Brand boulevard returned Saturday from a business trip to Culiacan, Mexico, which is located about 700 miles south of the United States border, and is the capital of the State of Sinaloa. Mr. Thomas states that it is a coming country and the only thing it needs for development is American capital.

An interesting feature related in connection with his trip was the number of luscious fruits which Mr. Thomas found to be growing in that country and which are unknown here. Among some of the choice fruits described by Mr. Thomas was that of melons which grow on high trees, and which take the place of cantaloupe as a breakfast fruit, and also the mango and papaya. Sugar and rice are also among the agricultural products of that section.

KING COLE WILL RULE CHILDREN

About 350 Young Folk to Take Part In Program at Intermediate

King Cole will hold court tonight on the playground of the Intermediate school assisted by Old Mother Goose.

About 350 children will take part in the nursery revival, which is under the direction of Miss Elsa Brenneman, directer of music in the Glendale grammar schools. The Intermediate orchestra will accompany a large chorus composed of children from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. About 125 of those who take part in the pageant will be in costume.

Children are expected to fill the air with melody and their parents are expected to fill it with applause.

WAR MOTHERS TO MEET TOMORROW

Plans for Convention Will Be Discussed at Session at Legion Hall

The regular bi-monthly business meeting of the Lester Myer chapter of the War Mothers of America will be held tomorrow afternoon at the American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. The gathering, which will be the last to take place before the state convention in Los Angeles on June 15, 16 and 17, will be in charge of Mrs. S. Houdyshel, vice-president of the organization. Mrs. J. B. Sherwood, who is president, will not be able to be present on account of illness.

The principal business of the meeting will be that of making final plans for the convention, the staging of which will be shared by the Glendale chapter. June 16 has been set aside as "Glendale Day" and the local members of the patriotic organization are looking forward to a gala occasion.

All members and those eligible to become members are urged to attend the meeting, which starts at 2 o'clock.

Sassy Jane Dress Sale Proves Popular

That Glendale women appreciate unusual dress values was proven Tuesday morning by the unusual response to Gordon's semi-annual sale of Sassy Jane frocks, advertised exclusively in Monday's News, many being sold prior to nine o'clock. That this is a real value-giving event, said Mr. Gordon, can be easily proved from the fact that two of the large city stores are conducting a sale on the same make of dresses, and advertising them at 25 to 40 per cent higher prices. The sale continues one more day, Wednesday.

The greatest wretchedness is to be guilty without repentance.

CHERRY SPECIAL TO BE FEATURED

Stadler's Store Will Have Large Supply of Fruit Middle of Month

Stadler's store at 3418 Glendale boulevard, just south of the Southern Pacific from Brand boulevard, features a cherry special every year during the canning season.

Already Mr. Stadler is arranging for a greater supply than ever from the valley fruit district where he goes every morning in his motor truck and gets the fruit fresh.

"We will have plenty of cherries this year between the 15th and 18th of June," he said last night in discussing the outlook. "One day last year our store handled more than 5000 pounds, which is pretty good, considering our location.

"However, everybody in Glendale is learning who and where Stadler is," he concluded with a smile of satisfaction at serving the people of his community.

THIS FISH TALE IS REALLY TRUE

Seventeen Trout Caught by Party; Size? Well, Here Is Whole Story!

Seventeen golden trout were caught at Hughes' Lake Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. George H. McLean of 1531 South Central avenue, and Mrs. and Mrs. George Burroughs of Alhambra.

Let's see, that makes four fish for each one and an extra one for somebody.

"We had a 'sumptuous' time," reported Mr. McLean yesterday at the Triangle Garage, 1426 South San Fernando Road.

"Were the trout large? No, I wouldn't say so. I couldn't lie."

Woman Centenarian Registers for Vote

MOBILE, Ala.—There'll be no complications from mixed jury service in the young life of Mrs. Mary A. McLane, Mobile centenarian, who celebrated the 100th anniversary of her birth by registering and qualifying for exercise of the franchise.

She declared in emphatic language that she does not propose to serve on any juries, in spite of the fact that she has become a full-fledged citizen.

"Yes," she said, "I have registered and can vote now. But I won't serve on the jury. No, I won't go on the jury, but I'll vote."

Registering for the vote was not all that Mrs. McLane did in celebration of her birthday. She went down to the business heart of the city and later was the guest of honor at a party at which she ate cake, candy and other delicacies, but declared that for ordinary diet she still prefers her cornbread and turnip "pot liquor."

Mrs. McLane was born in Green county, Georgia, near Gainsborough, a hundred years ago, where her father was a prominent carpenter. She was one of a family of eight girls and two boys. She says she remembers well the old home, when she went to school as a little girl, and of taking trips with her family. She declares that her recollection of the falling stars in 1833 is vivid.

When she first came to Mobile, in 1853, it was a wild place, she says, a forest standing on the site of the Benevolent Home, on Government street, where she now lives, and the Indians still roamed that part of the country.

After a strenuous day she retired, happy, she said, and with no ill effects from her protracted celebration, except a slight tired feeling.

Cosmetics Cause Five Men to Be Discharged

An investigator for the Cumberland County Power & Light company line testified that conductors allowed pretty girls to ride without paying their fares provided they were properly painted and powdered. Five conductors are looking for new jobs.

Well, then, how about a big one?

CANINE BATHTUB NOW SUGGESTED

J. M. Wilson Declares That He Has One In Stock Certain to Suit

Wanted: Someone to donate funds to the dog department at the city hall for the purchase of a bathtub for Hotel de Canines.

J. M. Wilson, manager of the establishment at 1738 South Brand boulevard, owned by the Wilson-Bell Hardware company, says that he has a tub of galvanized iron in stock that would be a credit to a bridal suite of any city pound.

Now that the dog days are on their way it is reported that Glendale dogs are taking up a collection to purchase it.

In view of the fact that the city's canine catcher today started on a hunt for dogs not wearing muzzles, it is presumed that the Hotel de Canines will shortly be crowded.

And what is a hotel—or a home—without a bathtub?

Wife's Cooking Wins Green Hill Patrons

"It's hard to keep folks away from my wife's cookin'," says George Pearce, proprietor of the "eatery" at 463 West Los Feliz road, known as the Green Hill Lunch Room.

Mrs. Pearce is now "manufacturing" all the pies and cakes sold here and supervising the cooking generally.

Mr. Pearce says that he has trouble keeping customers from eating more than two pieces of cake at a time.

T. B. Reavis Seems Extremely Confident

"Save-a-brush" isn't anything particularly new, according to T. B. Reavis, proprietor of the paint store at 1528 South San Fernando Road. He says, however, that this liquid takes "gooiness" out of paint brushes like a charm.

"Will it do the same for Milady's hair?"

"Sure," replies Mr. Reavis, "it'll take the stickiness out of anything—even glue."

Spanked Cream Is Placed Upon Market

Why bother to "spank" cream for salads and fancy dishes when "Marshmellow Creme" is now on the market already prepared? This is the inquiry of J. W. Mueller of 1417 South San Fernando road. He says that the new preparation is meeting a ready sale.

HANDY TO CARRY ON PICNIC PARTY

Read This and You Will Grow Hungry—Perhaps; Anyway, Read On

"Mettwursts" are the latest descendants of the lowly pioneer—the wieniewurst.

These are a product of evolution and careful breeding. They grow to a size at least twice that of their parents and are much more tender and eatable.

Their habitat is the Gateway Meat Market. They are affectionate by nature and have a special fondness for the inside of picnic buns and have no bad habits. They are by nature monogamous and both adults grow to a similar size.

In fact, when they are connected by their family tie, which is usually a short piece of waxed string, it is difficult to tell them apart.

No home should be without at least one pair of "Mettwursts," according to Tom Sprinkle—head butcher, when Claude Caswell is not on the job.

FACTORY SITE IS NEEDED BY PLANT

C. S. Jordan of Glendale Sash and Door House In Market for Realty

C. S. Jordan was out "scouting" yesterday in his automobile for a site for the erection of a new factory for the Glendale Sash & Door House, which is now located at 1422 South San Fernando Road.

More Shelving Is Now Being Installed to Care for the Increasing Trade

The necessity for more room for merchandise in order to keep pace with business is now being felt by the South Glendale Dry Goods store at 1510 South San Fernando Road.

Gabe W. Cox and his son, G. Wiley Cox, are extremely anxious to be able to meet all reasonable demands of their patrons for merchandise. Consequently, they have been keeping a careful check on calls for special articles and have been adding to their stock constantly. This week more shelving is being installed in order to provide accommodations for some of their enlarged lines.

He Buys Them Green! Ripen In Glendale

"Dad" Anderson of Andy's Place, 1420 South San Fernando road, is now waiting for his bananas to get ripe.

W. L. Anderson has found that it is better to purchase green bananas and let them get ripe in Glendale rather than buy ripe ones and let them get rancid in some garbage can.

"Don't mind waitin!" exclaimed Mr. Anderson. "Time is what I've got the most of. In fact, it's almost what I ain't got nothin' else but."

Special Bargain In Furniture Offered

A dressing table for a "flapper" who might like to admire her ankles in the full length mirror is now on sale at 1424 South San Fernando Road, according to George M. Stull. On account of the size of this mirror as well as its low price, he considers this piece of furniture a special bargain. He also has received a piano and other articles of furniture which those who have examined them say are worthy of consideration by newlyweds.

ROY L. KENT CO. PLANS SALE AT SAN FERNANDO

One Square Block Will Be Put On Market; Notes Of Valley Territory

The Roy L. Kent Company of 130 South Brand boulevard has entered the San Fernando field as subdividers and, according to an announcement by Mr. Kent today, they will handle part of the former Fitz Investment Company holdings.

One square block of thirty-two semi-business lots soon will be put on the market. The property is bounded by McClay, Mission road, Celis and Pico streets, just one block away from the principal business streets.

The Kent Company will open offices in San Fernando in the near future. They now are completing the sale of Glendale Gardens and announce that prices on their New Windsor place tract will advance on June 10.

$175,000 Price For Ranch

A number of Lankershim people have secured an option on the famous Hartsook ranch that occupies the entire frontage on Lankershim boulevard from Third to Fourth streets, a distance of half a mile. It also has a frontage of a quarter of a mile on the Fourth street - Magnolia avenue boulevard and a half mile on Vineland avenue, with the Pacific Electric railway running the entire length on the east side, with two stations. The acreage is about forty. The price quoted is $175,000.

Hartranft to Write Book

M. V. Hartranft left Tujunga last week for San Francisco to attend the convention of realtors of the United States and expects before he returns to spend some time collecting material for a story entitled "Trees I Have Met." A great cherry tree that kept a whole cannery busy for days, a fig tree that covers an acre of ground and the ancient sequoias that reached out their arms to heaven ages before many other forms of life now existent came into being, are among the celebrities Mr. Hartranft expects to cultivate.

Madrigal Club Praised

The colonial concert given by the Glendale Madrigal club as complimentary to the Burbank Choral club, was like a page torn from the Book of Symphony, says the Burbank Review. Artistic interpretation of beautiful music expresses the program from the first number to the last which was "Invocation to Life," and very finely given.

Shakespearean Program

People of Tujunga and the Verdugo hills will have an opportunity to hear one of the greatest of present-day Shakespearean interpreters Thursday evening, when Frederick Warde, leading actor of the Mission Play, and Mrs. Tyrone Power will give the first entertainment on the new stage at the Garden of the Moon at the foot of Sunset boulevard, near the highway.

Potato Growers Organize

A meeting attended by over sixty representative potato growers of the valley, mostly from the Van Nuys district, and representing over 2,000 acres of potatoes, took the first concrete action toward forming a potato growers' association and stabilizing the product of the valley growers. The crop this year in the valley is estimated at 680,000 bags.

DOROTHY PEART CIRCLE'S LEADER

Chosen President at Session of Queen Esther; Plans for Annual Rally

A meeting of the Queen Esther Circle of the First Methodist church was held Monday at the home of Miss Carmen Doyle, 200-A North Louise street. At that time a delicious cafeteria dinner was served, followed by the annual election of officers, with Miss Dorothy Peart being chosen president.

Plans were made for the annual rally to be held at Pomona June 20, and also for the summer camp at Pacific Palisades the latter part of July.

Mrs. Helen Knappen Scripps, the new supervisor of the Circle, will chaperone the girls at the camp this summer, where a fine time is anticipated.

Fire Laddies Balk at Stopping Poker Game

DEFIANCE, Ohio. — Defiance firemen, who thought they had been called out on every available mission—from rescuing stranded passengers in the gondals of a gear-jammed Ferris wheer to dragging the river for a missing woman—received a new thrill thrill when called into service to break up a poker party which, neighbors thought, was making too much noise.

Answering the telephone alarm, sounded at 4 a. m. by an excited woman, the fire laddies failed to find any blaze at the address given. They did, however, discover drawn shades and the telltaletale "Hey, Eddie!"

They went back to bed. - -

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Something Doing, You Bet
See the Rotarians Smile
Central Americas Prosper
Financial Stability Again

By Gil A. Cowan

WHILE the Rotarians are in the limelight at Los Angeles this week, San Francisco is going to have its fun in a few days when the Shriners' conclave opens there.

The latter are as devoted to fun as the former are to service. Wherever you see a Shriner, there is bound to be something doing. Wherever you see a Rotarian, there is a fellow doing something.

In keeping open house this week, the Glendale Shrine club is getting a great deal of publicity for this city for many of the delegates to International Rotary are representing their respective Shrines. Certainly, the motor tour of the Rotarians yesterday was a large success. in that it brought hundreds of visitors here who will long sing the praises of a hospitable community.

It doesn't matter much from what part of the country—or the world—you have come from, you will find friends among the visitors in Los Angeles this week.

Get in touch with them and have them at your home for a dinner some evening. Make them glad they came to California. Tell them about Glendale.

It is propaganda like that which will pay big in building southern California.

Show the western spirit! Call 'em "Bill" or whatever their nicknames are and the Rotarians will respond with a smile that will be worth your while. Then talk to them. Convince them that California is the only place in which to live.

You know it!

For those who have investments or interest in the Central American countries, the following dispatch by the U. S. Press Association to The Glendale Evening News will be happily received:

A feeling of optimism for the trade of 1922 in Central America is justified, says the Latin-American Division of the Department of Commerce. Conditions during the first quarter of this year have been showing an improvement and it is generally believed that the trend is upward.

In Costa Rica business has been reported by Consul Waterman as in a healthy condition.

In Guatemala declared exports for the quarter have been practically the same in value as those of the first quarter of last year.

In Honduras the government began to pay back salaries of its employes, in February. Thus by March business showed a decided improvement, with collections good and merchants ordering rather freely. Political disturbances are not considered severe enough to affect the trade materially.

The coffee crop in Nicaragua was one-fifth less than normal, but prices increased from 10 cents per pound in the middle of March to 15 cents for the best grade in the first part of April.

In a resume of business and financial conditions made by the Federal Reserve board, the conclusion is reached that "financially the month of May has been a period of comparative stability. No changes in discount rates have taken place at the Federal Reserve banks and rates in the open money market have continued distinctly below those prevailing at the local Federal Reserve institutions." The report continues: "Call money figures have been exceptionally low during most of the month. Interest rates have also fallen to some extent in the producing sections of the country. The prospect of some better adjustment of foreign economic conditions has tended to stabilize rates of exchange, most of the foreign currencies fluctuating only within very narrow limits.

"Foreign trade has shown a distinct tendency to improve, the merchandise export balance in favor of the United States reaching higher figures. At the same time a somewhat better inquiry for tonnage has developed. Among domestic developments the striking event of the month has been the announcement of a cut of 10 per cent in railroad rates by the Interstate Commerce commission. What effect this will have upon commodity movements is as yet uncertain."

The daughters of Nippon have embraced "flapperism" unreservedly and whole-heartedly, says an International News Service dispatch from Sacramento, which quotes A. Osada, prominent Nipponese educator who today consulted with the state department of education relative to the textbook system in effect in California. Ah, yes! Bobbed hair, rolled stockings and manifest upward trend in hakam, are outward indications of the fact that the ladies of Japan are contentedly basking in the unconditional arms of flapperism.

When a fellow has more work than he knows what to do with—

And a moocher comes along and confesses that he hasn't worked for three months—

And that he doesn't want a job unless it is laid on a silver platter before him—

And then he will report only to get his pay—

Wouldn't you feel like giving him a kick instead of a quarter?

I do, but I didn't have the heart to hurt my foot on the poor shrimp that accosted me at the corner of Sixth and Spring streets in Los Angeles last night.

The misguided individual who first advanced the theory that two can live as cheaply as one is responsible for most of the unhappiness in this world.

New Nickel Alloy Is As Strong As Steel

LONDON.—A new nickel alloy, which is said to have the terrible strength of steel, the appearance of silver and the non-corrosive quality of stainless steel, has been discovered by A. O. Morrison, a Sheffield metallurgist.

The new metal can be manufactured at about half the price of stainless steel, in an equally finished condition. Altogether thirty English firms are taking up the alloy, and orders indicating a demand of many tons a week have already been received.

The Cynical Bachelor observes that the man who takes a postgraduate course in love must pay his tuition fees in alimony.

Paris Official Would Bar American Jazz

PARIS—Emile Massard, Municipal Councillor of the City of Paris, does not like jazz music, nor does he care very much for foreign musicians. He has, therefore, appealed to the city to put a stop not only to jazz, but to forbid too many foreigners from playing any sore of music.

In the archives of the city hall he has found an old law, duly passed by parliament, which forbids more than 10 per cent of any musical company being of foreign nationality. He says he is merely defending the interests of French musicians who have been driven "into the woods" by American and Hawaiian jazz artists.

Singing of Husband Cause for Divorce

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — A husband who can sing and dance may be a prize package, but Mrs. Camilla Hyskell, twenty-five, cried "enough" on the matter of that accomplishment.

In her case for divorce against Fred Hyskell she testifed that he "preferred to sing and dance above everything else."

"Was that all the work he could do?" asked the court.

"Yes, sir; that was about all."

"Divorce granted," said the court.

Those who are born great are really deserving of our sympathy. They miss the satisfaction of telling how they did it.

RADIO EXPLAINED

INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y.M.C.A. RADIO SCHOOL

ROTATING CONDENSER

Although a crystal detector is usually used for the reception of damped wave or modulated continuous waves, it may be used with auxiliary devices for the reception of straight, continuous wave telegraph signals. One such device is a rotating condenser. In the customary tuned secondary circuit a variable air condenser is connected across the secondary inductance coil. Across this condenser and, therefore, across the inductance also we could place a very small variable air condenser and arrange it so that the movable plates could be continuously rotated. This could be done by fastening a small pulley to the shaft which carries the movable plates and belting this to another pulley on the shaft of a small motor. The motor can then be left running as long as signals are received and will continuously vary the capacity of the small condenser between maximum and minimum values.

In operation the two condensers, in shunt to each other, are so adjusted that the sum of their capacities will be correct for a resonant adjustment of the circuit. That is, the secondary circuit is tuned to resonance with minimum capacity in the small condenser. The motor is then started and the capacity of the small condenser varies from minimum to maximum and back to minimum value for each complete rotation of the movable plates. The secondary circuit is then actually in resonance only once for each revolution of these moving plates. Each time there is resonance during the revolutions the telephone receiver diaphragm is actuated and produces a click. Therefore, the number of clicks per second—that is, the tone of the sound produced in the telephones—depends only upon the number of revolutions per second of the rotating condenser. In this manner the energy of the continuous oscillations created by the passing undamped waves is discharged through the telephones at an audible frequency rate, and it is possible to use a crystal rectifier to produce the necessary rectification.

A RELAY FOR RECORDING RADIO SIGNALS

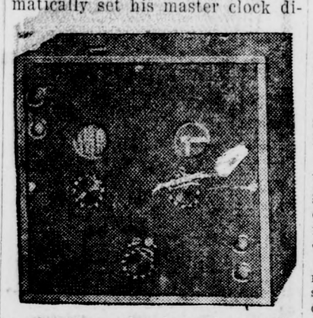
Every radio experimenter will recognize the value of a sensitive relay. The new enthusiasts will also realize the advantage of recording telegraph signals which they may not be able to read at high speed, but which might be easily deciphered if printed upon a tape. This can be done when the relay is used with a recorder. The jeweler who desires to ring time signals on a large gong may do so by connecting this gong circuit direct to the relay. With a suitable arrangement he can automatically set his master clock directly from the incoming radio time signal. The relay operates directly in series or in parallel with the head receivers of the radio set. An amplifier is only necessary with the receiver and relay when signals are below average intensity in the head receivers. The relay is, to a great extent, tone selective, and signals of equal intensity, which cannot be readily differentiated by the ear, may be individually recorded, providing a reasonable difference in tone frequency exists between them.



The relay is extremely sensitive to weak signals, but at the same time is very rugged and will withstand considerable abuse. It is a sound operated device, with no electrical or magnetic amplifying circuits. A small air jet inflates a rubber diaphragm, on which a movable spring contact rests. Adjacent to the jet is a standard telephone receiver, connected to the radio receiving set. An incoming signal, audible in the receiver, is conveyed to the air jet, causing it to flare. This allows the diaphragm to deflate, bringing a spring contact. This closes a local circuit, which is in series with a six-volt battery, and to which a tape recorder, bell, buzzer or ordinary telegraph sounder may be connected. When the incoming signal ceases the air jet immediately returns the diaphragm to its original position and opens the local circuit. This process is repeated for each dot and dash of the incoming signals and perfectly and speedily reproduces them. The air pressure feed, which is supplied by a miniature blower, need only be given an initial adjustment. It will function thereafter with no further adjustment.

The additional uses to which such a relay may be put are numerous. A certain university uses it to flash time signals with a high power searchlight. It is certainly a decidedly valuable addition to radio.

Decrease Shown In Number of Animals

DENVER—A steady decrease in the number of wild animals that roam the plains, mountains and forests of Colorado is noted in a report made to the United States forest service here by Assistant District Forester John Hatton.

Despite the fact that many of the animals are protected by state game laws, elk are practically the only ones in the Colorado national forests that have shown an increase in the past year.

Predatory beasts and eagles, not the hunter's rifle, are responsible for the gradual wiping out of vast herds that once were found in the Centenial state, the report indicated.

According to the report there are only 183 wolves in the fifteen national forests of the state; 437 mountain lions are accounted for, while it is believed that only thirty-four grizzly bears remain in the region.

Beaver and brown bear are holding their own in numbers, but mountain sheep, deer and antelope are rapidly dwindling.

Special observations were made during the past year with a view to exterminating predatory animals. The coyote is declared to be the worst offender in this latter class, causing great destruction to sheep, fowl and domestic animals. Because of increasing depredations of the coyote, Hatton expresses the belief that this usually cowardly animal is turning into a wolf. The Biological Survey has for several years concentrated its efforts on extermination of the coyote but with little success. Once infesting the plains, the coyotes have taken to the mountains in recent years where their boldness has increased.

ENGLISH LABOR IS LOSING STRENGTH IN UNIONISM

After War Unemployment Wave Depletes Union Coffers, Writer Asserts

By DAVID M. CHURCH
By International News Service.

LONDON—British labor has come upon hard times.

Unionism in Great Britain now is undergoing a period of severe test, due largely to after effects of the war and consequent unemployment. Organized labor was hard hit in Great Britain during the war and after the war the great unsubsiding wave of unemployment came along.

The coffers of the unions were not full at the end of the war, and during the past four years there have not been great replenishments of the union funds because of the fact that there have been heavy drains upon the treasuries of organized labor. Unemployment relief has depleted the treasuries of some of the unions, and there is now a great struggle to keep the organizations alive.

Labor leaders are inclined to intimate that this state of affairs is pleasing to capital, and they even hint that capital is helping the unemployment situation along in order that unionism may be crushed.

The labor movement in politics is also under stress. Every election return in the past six months has shown a tendency to decrease the strength of the labor party. This weakening is in a large measure due to the communist movement, which has linked itself with the labor movement in many districts and has brought about a combination of opposition parties to fight communism.

Labor's Path Difficult

As the British labor movement finds its path more and more difficult there are evidences that there is an ever-widening cleft between the British and American labor movements.

This was evidenced recently when there were some hints that British labor might be called upon to aid the American coal miners on strike. While the leaders of British labor were not willing to announce that they had no desire to aid the American strikers the rank and file were quick to put up a protest and a protest of such strength that the leaders were extremely cautious in evry movement they made toward aiding America.

Opposed to Gompers

This anti-American feeling in labor circles here is partly due to the fact that it is felt that if the Americans had rendered support the last British coal strike could have been won. Then there is a considerable amount of antagonism against Samuel Gompers here in his home land.

On top of all this is perhaps a bit of jealousy on the part of the Britishers, who see their American colleagues growing fat on the strength they built up during the war, while the British labor movement is threatened with dire disaster because of the war.

An international labor movement, with the weak aiding the strong, is hoped for by the British leaders, who are frank to admit that they are now facing their supreme test.

The Braves fell heir to the only major league victory of the day, Joe Oeschger shutting the Cardinals right out in their first appearance on eastern soil, six to nothing.

It became known yesterday that error made by John (Stuffy) McInnis on Saturday was the first he had made in 146 consecutive games. He was charged with his last misplay, a dropped thrown ball, on May 30, 1921. In the meantime he handled 1,531 put outs and 94 assists for a total of 1,625 chances.

Mail by Air Idea Conceived in 1822

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The idea of speeding up the mail service of the United States by the use of airplanes was first conceived more than 100 years ago, Postmaster General Hubert Work discovered in a recent inspection of the department's files.

While going through the records of the postoffice department shortly after he assumed his new duties, Work came across the following editorial, which appeared in the Freeman's Journal (now called the Norristown, Pa., Herald) of March 1, 1822:

"We would advise the postmaster general to avail himself of the novel and ingenious flying machine, invented by James Bennett of Philadelphia, by which we conceive the mails would be transported with much more celerity and their arrival at the places of destination be much more certain than is the case at present."

Commenting upon the friendly advice of this foresighted editor of a century ago, Work said: "If that was true then it is true today, and I wish I might be able to advise this old editor that we are today using the 'flying machine' with splendid results, in transporting the mails with safety and celerity."

The remarkable development of the mail service in the past several decades was strikingly brought out by the discovery in the department's records of 1833 of a "wonderful feat" performed in that year. The feat spoken of was the carrying of mail and news dispatches by relays of horses every five miles between Washington and New York in fifteen hours.

We should all speak well of the dead, but the widow who marries a second time needn't rub it in.

It's better to lose smilingly than to win whiningly.

AUTO BUS LINE NOT CONSIDERED

People Called to Council Chambers Last Night by False Alarm

Consideration of the proposed municipal bus line was not taken up by the city council in open session last night, although several persons were in the audience awaiting debate on the matter.

Councilman Sam A. Davis, acting as mayor in the absence of Mayor Spencer Robinson, explained that a newspaper—not The Glendale Evening News—had without authorization published a statement to the effect that the council would hold a public meeting last night on the bus question.

"The article was without authority," said Councilman Davis.

"We had nothing to do with its publication," said Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson.

"It was a surprise to me when it was called to my attention," said Councilman A. H. Lapham.

And the few in the audience present on the false alarm went home.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store. —Advertisement.

THIS CITY GIVEN HIGHEST PRAISE BY VISITORS

Delegates Greatly Impressed With Glendale; Publicity Sure to Benefit

Grove boulevard in Pasadena and Griffith Park—all of which they glimpsed in a few brief hours.

Expresses Appreciation

Roy L. Kent, president of the Glendale Rotary Club, personally extends his thanks, as well as that of the club, to each and every person who assisted in giving Glendale this publicity and the local Rotary Club the honor of playing host to such a large number of delegates.

Outside of the principal cities of the United States and Canada, where Rotary is strongly fortified, the following far-away points were represented in the pilgrimage: London, Middlesborough, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Scarborough, Sheffield, Southampton—all in England; Belfast and Dublin, Ireland; Edinburgh and Glasgow, Scotland; Cardiff, Wales; Paris, France; Melbourne, Australia; Shanghai, China; Montevideo, Uraguay; Havana, Cienfuegos, Sagua La Grande and Matanaz, Cuba; Mexico City, Mexico; Hilo and Honolulu, Hawaii.

Each of the delegates coming to Glendale was presented with a Chamber of Commerce pamphlet and each car was presented with a copy of yesterday's edition of The Glendale Evening News. They also had the pleasure of picking oranges at some of the nearby ranches where it was permitted and they stopped many times along the way for refreshments—or tire repairs.

Officers Entertained

In the evening the officers of the various clubs were entertained at Hotel Maryland, which was attended by several from here. A reception committee in the Crown City saw that the Rotarians were well cared for.

The "Dixie Special" arrived yesterday afternoon too late for the Glendale trip and efforts will be made to get the Seventh district delegates out to Glendale before the convention closes. However, the party has been highly entertained along the way.

Delegates from the Eighth district—way down south—had a wonderful trip, including a fish fry on Pike's Peak, near Denver. They arrived yesterday morning and many of them missed the Glendale trip. If you have friends among the Florida, Georgia or Alabama contingents, make yourself a committee of one that they see Glendale, it is advised.

Nothing but words of praise were heard around international headquarters in Los Angeles last night for the treat afforded the visitors by Glendale and the progressive spirit of its citizens met hearty commendation from the big business men of the country who have run away from home for a little fun.

STREET REPAIRS ESTIMATE URGED

Councilman Sam A. Davis Offers Suggestion to the City Authorities

The city council is considering the budget for 1922-23 and during last night's session Councilman Sam A. Davis made the suggestion that estimates for repairs on streets be segregated for different sections of the city based upon the amount of taxes paid by the several sections.

"In this way," he explained, "we will know just what sum each section of the city is entitled to for street repairs, based upon the amount paid in taxes."

Other members of the council declared the the suggestion appealed to them.

It is said at the city hall that the city will probably meet its "red ink" balance during July, or come within about $2,000 of doing so.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

"We want to see Hollywood," the visitors said.

"See Glendale first," was the reply of Roy L. Kent, Jack Huntley, Will Hunter, et al., as they shanghaied one party after another into cars at Fifth and Olive streets yesterday.

"Where's the kick to this convention?" one of the old timers asked.

"Go up and see Elliott Wyman of the credentials committee," quoth the wise one.

"Has he a bottle?" whispered the O. T.

"Naw, a Chicago delegate wants a half a dozen votes for the price of one."

One Los Angeles newspaper reporter spent the evening trying to find a "kick" in the convention. Will King's chorus was the nearest thing he could get a kick out of.

"Drink to me only with thine eyes," you might say.

Oh, yes. Elliott Wyman, of the credentials committee, lives in Casa Verdugo although he is a member of the Los Angeles club. His address is 1326 North Maryland avenue. Incidentally, he stayed on the job last night while his wife went to the big doings. Tough luck, that.

Goshamighty. For the first time the Rotary convention has a regular publicity agent on the job. Albert Ferguson of Chicago is furnishing the "hand outs" to the reporters. He has some able assistants, too.

Glendale's Rotary club has a bulletin board on the second floor of the Philharmonic auditorium, otherwise known as the Temple Baptist church. You don't know whether you are going to Sunday school or to the Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher's study, but you are sure on your way when you see the pictures of King's chorus in the lobby.

Rodolph Valentino, Gloria Swanson Appear In Film at T. D. & L. Today

At last. It's here. The long awaited romance, "Beyond the Rocks," starring Rodolph Valentino and Gloria Swanson. It is at the T. D. & L. theatre, another of the big attractions presented by the popular playhouse. No need to say, "Are you going to see it?" The whole of Glendale is not only talking about it but has been eagerly awaiting its arrival, says Manager Allan. The combination of Valentino and Swanson in a picture that has caught public fancy and in "Beyond the Rocks" there is romance—romance—romance.

It is the famous story by Elinor Glyn, author of "Three Weeks." It is an ardent love drama with all the thrills and luxury of a lifetime. Never before has such lavishness—such dramatic action and spectacular adventure been seen upon the screen. Ralph Allan says, "It is the one picture you'll never forget. If you don't see it you will miss not only a great picture treat but what is perhaps the greatest love romance ever filmed. In your columns tell the people to come early."

Scouts Interested In Webb's Display

This is Boy Scout uniform week and from the bevy of Scouts who were at the H. S. Webb company yesterday afternoon one would have thought it was a Boy Scout convention. Yesterday was the opening day of Boy Scout Uniform week and hundreds of people during both the afternoon and evening stopped to look at the very attractive window display, which is one of the features of the special attractions Mr. Webb has provided for the boys and their parents during the next five days.

Just inside the door of the "Men's Shop" a model Boy Scout camp has been set up by Scouts of Troop No. 2, Glendale, under the direction of Arthur Barton, Senior Patrol Leader. Scouts of this troop will give daily demonstrations of signaling, first aid, knot-tying and fire by friction (old Indian method). In addition, Mr. Webb has procured the loan of one of the most complete and expensive radio sets in Glendale from the J. A. Newton company and daily concerts will be given every afternoon during the week, under the direction of Marvin Creger, Assistant Scoutmaster Troop No. 3, Glendale, who is an expert radio operator.

Two Scouts will constitute the living models and will wear a complete uniform, both with and without the coat, so that the boys and their parents may get a good idea of its snappy appearance.

Although the special attractions are primarily for Boy Scouts and their parents everybody is invited to enjoy the special features which Mr. Webb has arranged for. One may receive a liberal education in Scouting by watching the boys as they demonstrate their activities.

kept his promise. I greet you, too, with the same sense of responsibility with which I received the trust you reposed in me a year ago.

Increase in Average

"Four years ago with less than 400 clubs our average attendance was less than 50 per cent. Today with treble the number of clubs our average is almost 85 per cent.

"For men to crave companionship is as natural as to desire to live. Most men are companionable and those who are not are only so because of artificial circumstances under which they have either elected or been forced to lead their lives. Lonesomeness is a misfortune and usually a product of selfishness.

"The great complex of human endeavor which we know as modern business is today a chief determining factor of all progress, security and happiness. All the world is one great interlocking mechanism of industry. Science, invention and discovery have bridged oceans and linked continents so that he who was yesterday a stranger is today our neighbor.

"Our Rotary clubs are training schools in citizenship and so long as they remain true to their purpose they are creating values which will endure.

Serve Two Purposes

"Rotary's needful organization should serve but two purposes; first, to insure that the unit Rotary club be strong and vigorous with free scope to interpret with vision and initiative the truth and ideals of Rotary within the community which it serves. Second, in insure cohesion of all unit clubs and such concert of action as will on the one hand preserve the ideals and purpose inviolate and on the other project its principles into the social and economic life of all nations.

"What has the future in store for Rotary and what is Rotary's ultimate place in the world? This depends upon you and me and upon all the $1,000 men who today are proud to call themselves Rotarians. We are builders—not for today, but for all times. Sure of secure foundation, certain of materials, shall we be equally certain of the structure we are rearing? So long as we remain true to fundamentals, true to ourserves, and true exemplars of service and good will, we may march on to meet the future with serene confidence of men who dare to do—and doing, dare.

"Let us waste no time in idle dreams or in ecstatic idealism, nor devitalize ambition by indulgence in soft complacency. But, realizing that the great tasks of the future are the present tasks of today, let us in truth and faith and with love in our hearts proclaim to a halting, yet practical, world that only the golden path of good will and service leads to the goal of happiness and peace."

TOM MIX PICTURE FULL OF STUNTS

Story of Northwest Is Shown On Screen at Glendale; Fight Under Water

Another speedy Tom Mix picture, full of stunts and tricks and good humor, will open at the Glendale Theatre today. It is a Fox production called "Up and Going," a story of the Canadian Northwest, written by Mix and his director, Lynn Reynolds.

For action and picturesqueness, "Up and Going" is said to be Mix's most entertaining picture. The picture was made in the north country, with its snow, its bleakness, its fast flowing rivers and its great silence, and with characters rough, but made of either pure gold or of a base metal.

One of the big scenes is said to be a fight under water between Mix and Sid Jordan. In this picture there are some beautiful moonlight canoe scenes and thrilling rides through rapids.

Mix is now a resident of Glendale and this should cause a lot of people here to see him. Other numbers on the bill make your money's worth more interesting.

Fate of Prisoner Is Decided in Dice Game

CHICAGO—Judge Prindiville and newspaper reporters "shot crap" in the courtroom in the South Clark street station. But not for pastime. The little black spots on the ivories were to determine the fate of a prisoner.

The dice rattled across the judge's bench, while a score of policemen and court attaches watched with interest. The only one present who did not enjoy the proceedings was Ambrose Levins. Ambrose had just told the judge that he was the maker of the dice, which were crooked. One pair had only sixes, fives and three on them. Two other pair were "loaded."

One roll was enough for the judge.

"Twenty-five dollars and costs," he said when the "game" was over. "You're worse than a gambler. You furnish the tools with which crooks dupe their victims."

It is backbone that makes success, and not wishbone.
